"The qigong Michael Lomax teaches is hard to describe in words. It works beyond this level and can only be experienced. The forms are simple, but infused with a quality of energy that I have found to raise and strengthen my practice. Michael works on higher levels and offers these levels to students that are ready and willing. I am honored and grateful to have the opportunity to study with him."

Scientific Studies Verify Qigong's Effectiveness

By Michael Lomax, Dipl. ABT (NCCAOM)

Millions of dollars have been spent in the hospitals of China to verify the science of Qigong. There are currently more than 1200 scientific abstracts translated to English. Astounding facts concerning the effectiveness of Qigong have been made available to the public.

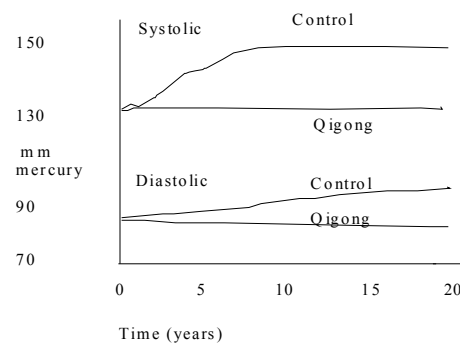

Many studies have been done to verify Qigong's positive effect on pain syndromes.

Other studies show why Qigong should be combined with western therapies such as chemotherapy and radiation treatment for cancer patients. Qigong practice appears to significantly offset the negative effects of these treatments. In fact, more than 60 studies have been done on cancer and positive effects of Qigong. One study of 127 patients, all diagnosed with malignant cancer, demonstrated remarkable improvement in strength, appetite, weight gain, and freedom from diarrhea of the Qigong group vs. the control group.

Another study of 18 males showed increased bone density after one year of Qigong practice

Several studies demonstrate the effectiveness of Qigong on hypertension and other cardiovascular diseases. Results of one of these studies of the effects of Qigong on hypertension is outlined below.

- 1. 242 hypertensive patients, all taking western drugs and Chinese herbs to control their blood pressure.
- 2. 20 year study, Qigong group consisted of 122 while control group consisted of 120 patients.

Study of 242 Hypertensive patients, control vs Qigong

Conclusions of study:

- 1. Over time, the Qigong group were given increasingly smaller doses of drugs.
- 2. After 5-10 years, one third of the Qigong group were totally independent of drugs!
- 3. The control group were given increasingly higher doses of drugs to maintain their blood pressure.

The most amazing thing about this particular study is that a 30 year follow up revealed:

Almost twice as many people in the control group died (40.8% vs. 25.41%).

Incidence of stroke and stroke mortality was nearly twice as high (40.7% vs. 20.5% and 15.5% vs. 32.5%) in control group.
